

Alberta Environmental Practice Lead

Responsibilities:

- Development of client relationships and business growth from an Alberta base
- Provision of leadership in the growth and development of our remediation design and geoscience services to our public and private sector clients in Alberta
- Provision of technical and professional leadership to staff including project engineers, scientists and technologists
- Management of projects related to the assessment and management of contaminated sites including the development and implementation of remedial action plans, and hydrogeological assessments

Qualifications:

- An advanced or graduate degree in civil or environmental engineering, geology, hydrogeology or environmental science
- Licensed to practice as a professional engineer or geoscientist, or eligible to be licensed
- A minimum of fifteen years' experience in environmental consulting

Experience:

- Demonstrated success in providing leadership to teams in a consulting environment
- Demonstrated client relationship and management experience and understanding of business development needs
- Outstanding success as a project manager
- Experienced in the following:
 - phased site investigations
 - human health and/or ecological risk assessment
 - remedial action plan development
 - design and implementation of compliance monitoring plans
- Expertise in the application of relevant environmental legislation, codes and standards in Alberta
- Experience in the oil and gas industry
- Expertise in groundwater resource evaluation and protection would be an asset